

Aim

The Proprietor confirms the return of the college to its Catholic Cathedral College home site on Monday 1 August 2011.

Current Position

J, K, H and I Blocks will remain out of bounds as they are within the "red" fall zone of the cathedral.

When the cathedral dome has been deconstructed down past the first set of windows, H Block will be available for occupation by the college students and staff – it is anticipated that the cathedral dome deconstruction will be completed in mid-late August.

The college gymnasium is already available and in use for college sports teams, C and G Blocks are available, and L Block will be completed and also available for teaching spaces and staff spaces.

Those spaces previously occupied by St Paul's School @ the Cathedral, i.e. G Block (part), D Block and A Block, are available for teaching spaces and staff spaces.

Repair works to B Block commence this week – it is anticipated that B Block will be available for occupation in September.

Conclusion

Whilst we in Christchurch are intimately aware that future significant earthquakes may require plans to be reassessed and altered, I can say that (as at 04/07/11) the college will return to its Catholic Cathedral College home site on Monday 1 August 2011.
